Greetings:

On behalf of the citizens of Colorado, I encourage you to take a little time to learn about our fine state and the Commission of Family Medicine.

The Commission of Family Medicine (COFM) is a unique organization that encourages young physicians to complete their medical training in Colorado's Family Medicine Residency programs. The group brings together family residency programs and representatives of our state's congressional districts to best serve Colorado's needs. COFM's continued pledge to advance Colorado healthcare will help lead our state far into the future.

There is no better environment to foster the success of such a program than Colorado. Our diverse population and generous citizens offer an enjoyable and friendly working community, while Colorado's outdoors provide a great opportunity to unwind when the work is done. With endless sunshine, our climate is the envy of the nation. The Rocky Mountains provide an opportunity to hike, ski, and relax with beautiful accommodations throughout the state.

It is my hope that you will consider coming to Colorado and learn more about the COFM and its mission to improve the lives of Coloradans.

Sincerely,

Bill Ritter, Jr.
Governor
